College Chaplain

Further Particulars

St Peter’s College is seeking to appoint a new part-time Chaplain. The appointed person will be an ordained priest in the Church of England (or in a church in full communion with the Church of England). The College Chaplain will bring thoughtfulness, personal generosity, intellectual energy, good organisation, imaginative care, good humour and their own grounded faith to the role, will enjoy spending time with, and ministering to, young people and be comfortable working in the friendly, progressive and inclusive ethos of St Peter’s College.

In line with the College’s founding tenets, the Chapel is a space for Christian worship and teaching and a key part of the Chaplain’s role is therefore to uphold the liturgical tradition of the Chapel and support the Chapel community. However, the Chapel is also a place of reflection and encounter for the wider community, for students and members of staff of all faiths and none. As a member of the Health, Wellbeing and Welfare team, the Chaplain offers pastoral support to the whole community. The Chaplain also serves as the key point of onward signposting to other faith leaders and faith communities within and beyond College and leads in facilitating thoughtful and inclusive events addressing questions of potential interest to those of all faiths and none.

Applications must be received by 1pm on 27th August 2024; interviews will take place on 16th and 23rd September; and it is hoped that the newly appointed Chaplain will be able to take up role on 6th January 2025 (or earlier if feasible).
ST PETER’S COLLEGE

St Peter’s College is one of thirty-eight self-governing Colleges in the University of Oxford. It is an open, tolerant and creative academic community with a reputation for friendliness and informality. Academics and students from many different backgrounds and countries mix comfortably across many different aspects of College life and work.

The College community is comprised of the Master, Professor Judith Buchanan, c.70 Fellows and academic tutors across subjects, c.80 members of administrative and domestic staff, c.600 students (350 undergraduate students; 250 postgraduate students) and c.25 Visiting Students. St Peter’s is a friendly, vibrant and inclusive academic community, and it offers an informal and supportive working environment.

St Peter’s College was founded in 1929 to help widen access to the University of Oxford and is a registered charity. Further information about the College’s life and work may be found at www.spc.ox.ac.uk

THE CHAPEL

The Chapel sits at the heart of the College site. Built in the 1870s, it served as the Parish Church of St Peter-le-Bailey where the College’s founder, Bishop Francis Chavasse, was Rector 1878-1889. For the first 30 years of the College’s history, St Peter-le-Bailey doubled as both Parish Church and College Chapel. It ceased to be a parish church in 1961 and has been used exclusively as the College Chapel since then. It is in regular use for services, for College talks and meetings, and for musical, cultural and various social events as part of the wider life of the College. The Victorian choir stalls remain in place; however the congregational pews have long-since been replaced with moveable chairs, making the space, and the configuration of the space, more versatile. The College Chapel boasts a very fine Willis organ and the Chapel’s acoustic for choral music is widely admired. The Chapel contains good AV equipment, making it possible to live broadcast and/or record events and services.
THE CHOIR

The Choir of St Peter’s College is one of the finest mixed-voice choirs in Oxford. It comprises around 25 auditioned students drawn from both undergraduate and graduate communities. The Director of Music is Mr Quintin Beer, an award-winning conductor from the Royal Academy of Music. He is assisted by a Senior and a Junior organ scholar. The choir has an established reputation in Oxford, and further afield, for choral excellence, diverse repertoire, and collegiality. During the University term, the choir sings two Choral Evensongs per week, one of which is usually also broadcast live. Outside term, the Choir tours regularly, and makes occasional recordings.

SERVICES

There is a calendar of weekly services across the eight weeks of the three University terms.¹ The three main services of each term-time week are Choral Evensong (BCP) with sermon on Sundays at 6pm, Choral Evensong (BCP) without sermon on Thursdays at 6.15pm and Holy Communion on Tuesdays.

¹ The three University of Oxford terms are known as Michaelmas Term (October – early December), Hilary Term (January to early March); Trinity Term (April – June).
The two candle-lit Advent Carol services at the end of Michaelmas Term are a prominent and much-loved moment in the College year. There are a small number of additional special services in the year, such as a Remembrance Day Service and the Founders' and Benefactors’ Day Service. From time to time there are weddings, funerals and memorial services to be planned and conducted, and occasional baptisms for current and old members of the College community.

THE ROLE

The position has become available because the current incumbent, who has been the College Chaplain for the past ten years, will be retiring from post in the Autumn.

The Chaplain is responsible for the administration and organisation of the liturgical life of the Chapel. The Chaplain takes responsibility for the conduct of the services in the Chapel, according to the practices of the Church of England, in ongoing conversation with, and under the line management of the Master of the College. The College Chaplain will be licensed by the Bishop of Oxford.

St Peter’s Chapel is an Anglican foundation, and conducting services of Christian worship is central to the Chaplain’s role. However, the Chaplain’s pastoral community is wider than the Christian community of the College. The newly appointed Chaplain will therefore be demonstrably centred in their own faith and liturgical traditions, while also offering supportive, spiritual care for St Peter’s diverse, multi-faith community, in line with the College's friendly, progressive and inclusive ethos. The Chaplain will ensure that the whole community feels welcomed and included - for example through facilitating ecumenical and inter-faith conversations and initiatives.

The Chaplain is part of the College’s Health, Wellbeing and Welfare Team. The team is led by a full-time Dean for Welfare who is a mental health professional. The duties of the Chaplain as part of this team include liaising with other members of the team, ensuring that appropriate professional protocols are followed, including those relating to confidentiality, and undertaking training intermittently in areas relevant to the duties of the post and the personal development of the post-holder.
The Chaplain will be visible and approachable within the community and may sometimes need to be available to students and staff at short notice (within the terms of their contract), contributing to the non-academic life and well-being of the College.
